Financial Services Guide (FSG)

Preparation Date: 26 March 2015

What is the purpose of this FSG ?

This financial services guide (FSG) is an important document. It is designed to assist you in deciding whether to use any of the financial services offered by us, as described in this FSG. We are required to give you an FSG if we provide certain financial services to you and you are a retail client. This FSG contains important information about:

- who we are;
- the financial services we offer;
- the financial products to which those services relate;
- how we and others are paid in connection with those services;
- your privacy;
- how we deal with complaints; and
- how we can be contacted.

This FSG is not intended for 'wholesale clients' as defined by the Corporations Act 2001 (i.e. professional investors). References to 'you' and 'your' refer to potential investors who are not 'wholesale clients'. This FSG is provided by Superhero Insurance which is a service offering of Low Financial Group authorised representative of Integrity Financial Planners Pty Ltd (IFP) AFS License #225051.

Are there any other documents that you will receive?

Will you receive a statement of advice?

A person who provides a retail client with personal advice (that is advice that takes into account the client's objectives, financial situation and needs) must give the client a statement of advice (SOA). Superhero Insurance as a service offering of Low Financial Group does not provide personal advice to retail clients. Accordingly, you should not expect to receive an SOA from us.

Will you receive a product disclosure statement?

Before acquiring one of the products quote on the website, you have the ability to download a Product Disclosure Statement (PDS), which is designed to assist you to make an informed decision about the product. The statement will contain information about the product and will usually include the costs and details of other fees and charges which may apply, including (if applicable) any fees, commission or other benefits (collectively referred to as Adviser Remuneration) payable to financial advisers.

Will you receive a general advice warning?

A person who gives retail clients general advice (that is, advice that is not personal advice) must generally warn the client that the advice does not take into account the client's objectives, financial situation or needs. Where we provide you with general advice, we will also generally provide you with a general advice warning. The general advice warning will be given in the same manner as the advice is provided (i.e. in writing, online or verbally).

How do you obtain further information?

Why we do not give personal advice to online clients

We believe clients should obtain financial product advice from qualified financial advisers who fully understand their individual objectives, financial situation and needs. If you wish to access this service, please contact Low Financial Group on 1300 725 996 or info@lowefinancial.com

How we and others are paid for the financial services we provide

If you acquire one of the products via our website, we will receive fees and other benefits. These are generally set out in the PDS for the product or in an individual contract for services. This remuneration may include commission applicable to the particular product or service. Financial advisers may receive (in accordance with applicable legal requirements) Adviser Remuneration if they provide advice to you or arrange for you to acquire a product.

Any Adviser Remuneration, if paid, is set out in the PDS under which you acquired the product. For initial commissions these may be up to 110% of the first year's premium, though normally they will be around 80%. For example on a term life policy paying an initial commission of 80% with a premium of $300 this would equate to $240 plus 10% GST = $264. This is not a charge to you but is paid by the product provider. On an ongoing basis these payments may be up to 33% of the second and subsequent year's premium per annum. Therefore, on an insurance premium of $300 this would equate to $99 p.a.

Commissions and brokerage paid by product providers or intermediaries, shall be paid to IFP. IFP Ltd is a privately owned company. These amounts shall be paid by IFP to Low Financial Group or associated entities.

IFP (or associated entities) may receive profit share or volume based remuneration from some product suppliers. This may result in payments to IFP based on the overall level of business placed by IFP in particular products or with particular product providers.
